memory opens for me through my body i slip back because i catch a smell hear a sound or hold an evocative flavour on my tongue but these single sense glimpses of or gusts from the past are often fleeting more compelling for me more total is when my whole body the entire surface of my skin and my muscles movements connect me to my old self especially it is the movements of summer when more of me

meets the elements while i am swimming or feeling my bramble scratched legs against hot rocks or when i am experiencing the lovely lassitude that fills me at the end of a long afternoon of sun and water as i stand slicing tomatoes for my supper while corn boils and sun falls in the window on a pile of raspberries in a bowl all my senses all are alive from i tell you a secret a delightful beautifully written and thoroughly engaging story of coming of age in the 1950s that focuses on anne coleman between the ages of fourteen and twenty one and her relationship with mr maclellan canadian literary figure hugh maclellan which played out in the summers in the village of north hatley quebec a picturesque resort that has been known to attract artists and writers and the upper classes in prose that is intimate visual and resonant with immediacy anne coleman brings us back to summers in the 1950s revealing the eccentricities of north hatley and its residents but most of all focusing on her special friendship with a man many years her senior independent individualistic sensually alert as a young girl anne coleman did not fit the mould later when anne is eighteen she leads a double life one which follows the course of a romance with frank the dark brooding european young man who has a strange hold over her and the enigmatic mr maclellan whose own feelings for anne suggest themselves to her in ways that are at once confusing tantalizing and deeply important along the way the story also offers a wonderfully evocative portrayal of the 1950s its sexual repressiveness and mores the beautiful village of north hatley comes alive in vivid ways this is a unique coming of age story by a writer who writes sentences that cut to the bone from the hardcover edition
